

(Adopted April 7, 1978)

RULE 1224. OPENING STATEMENTS

Opening statements may be presented by any party or his representative. Opening statements should briefly set forth the position of each party together with an identification of the issues to be raised by each party. The opening statements should not include testimony or exhibits and are not subject to cross-examination.